ARCHANGEL TZADKIEL

Bottle 99 – Pale Olive Green/Pink

Archangel Tzadkiel

26 February 1999

To try and rein in a flogged horse is too late,
To be half burnt-out alive; with the other half dead –
It's like having the whole house on fire around you,
The summer rains will come and dissolve it all to mud.

In a way it's been a long birth process for Tzadkiel. I am very pleased to say that Archangel Tzadkiel was born at 1.45pm on Friday, 26 February, 1999, the last day of a Teacher II Course here at Dev Aura.

It feels like a new beginning. It's the second level of the Green/Pink and it's the first time that the Pale Olive has been born which means a new light is being shone on the feminine leadership of the heart. The Pink energy isn't as pale as the Pink we might have expected, but it's a lovely balance to that Pale Olive energy and it is a little bit more than Hilarion and Lady Nada. Tzadkiel brings a real watery quality from the energies that are contained within this bottle. It's the faith and the trust for a new beginning for many on the path and the hope for the future that gives the strength to the intuition and the possibility to joy, to love and to peace for the future.

It's where we may come to in our understanding as happiness, peace and love begin to manifest upon the earth as we connect with the Earth Star within ourselves. The joy comes as a consequence of a discipline that's taking root in the sub-conscious, unconscious mind, to break up the patterns of the past and to give the intuition and the feminine aspect within us the space to be able to flower in the light of a new day.

It reminds me of the lotuses floating on the ponds in the monasteries in Sri Lanka on our recent visit there. It reminds me of how that Pink energy also reflects the crown and how the Emerald needs that Olive journey to begin to open in the context of the Pink energy. I also feel an incredible sense of freedom in relation to this new combination and how the light of this new love coming into the world is something that's extraordinary for us all.

It is with great joy that I give you these first thoughts on a Friday afternoon as to how we might greet Tzadkiel in the world. It is the possibility of letting go of deep layers of confusion at a conscious level, of how we might communicate what is there in relation to the way we've accepted ourselves at the deepest level within ourselves. It's a step into freedom in a completely new way as the vibrations upon the earth begin to rise and we face our own responsibility for ourselves within the context of this new energy.

Love to you all, as ever.
